Tuitions approved for Adult Education School

ALBANY — Albany Unified School District's board of directors has approved a schedule of fees and salaries for the Adult School division, and, in an unanimous vote, authorized adoption of the district's $4,754,495 budget for the 1978-79 school term.

The tuition schedule calls for a fee of $20 for courses offering 20 or more hours of instruction during the 10-week quarter starting Monday. There will be a charge of $10 for courses of 10 hours or less, and classes meeting from 11 to 19 hours per quarter will carry a fee of $15.

Utility firm offering seventeen 4-year college scholarships

ALBANY — Albany High School seniors were invited today to apply for 17 four-year college scholarship awards being offered by Pacific Gas and Electric Co.

The deadline for scholarship application is Oct. 31. The annual scholarship program is offered to high school students who will graduate in 1979 and who attend or live in PG&E's service area in Northern Central California, and are entirely by PG&E stockholders.

Information booklets and application forms are available from counselors at high schools in PG&E's service area and at local PG&E offices.

Seventeen scholarships of $1,000 a year for four years will be awarded. Each of 34 finalists will receive a one-time $1,000 award. The awards may be applied to undergraduate education at an accredited college or university of the student's choice in the United States.

Thirteen of the 17 scholarships are apportioned among PG&E's operating divisions, two are set aside for children of PG&E employees, and two others are awarded to minority students in special recognition of significant achievements despite economic, environmental or motivational disadvantages.

Fifty-one finalists will be selected — three for each scholarship. The 17 winners will be chosen during final judging in San Francisco April 24, 1979.

Since its beginning in 1966, the program has awarded 195 four-year scholarships to outstanding students.

The program was established in 1966 in memory of James B. Black, a longtime PG&E board chairman and an ardent supporter of higher education during his lifetime.

$90,000 cut in city revenue?

By NORMAN COLBY

ALBANY — City Administrator William Haden expects Albany to be $90,000 poorer next year — because of Prop. 13 and despite the state's recent allocation of emergency funds to the city.

"We are thankful for the state funds, whatever the total. But they do not restore the city finances to what they were before Prop. 13," Haden said.

State funding was reported to be $299,000.

The city administrator expressed concern that local citizens and city staff may be misled by the state funding announcement into thinking program cuts are not necessary.

"We had a serious problem this year which was met in part by cutting programs and staff. And it will get worse in future years, even with additional state bailout funding," he predicted.

Haden explained that the state's estimate of $299,000 emergency funding for Albany does not take into consideration that nearly $60,000 will be cut from that figure. This is because the city's "ending balance" last June was over the maximum allowed under state guidelines. One-third of that coverage, or $60,000, is deducted from the $299,000 coming to Albany, he said.

Haden added, "You have chairman, told the council Monday he would like a list of personnel that qualify for board secretary so one can be appointed as soon as possible. In the meantime, a board member will have to take notes.

Taylor's address ended an emotional dispute between council members Joyce Jackson and Robert Luoma over the appointment of Deputy City Clerk Jacqueline Bucholz as temporary secretary to the board. The appointment caused controversy over the issues of possible conflict of interest and the legality of the appointment.

The city attorney later ruled there was no conflict or illegality.

Mrs. Bucholz resigned after Taylor's address to the council, saying he knew of the alleged conflict of interest when he originally supported her.

The conflict began Aug. 7 when the council appointed Mrs. Bucholz temporary secretary to the board after the regular secretary retired.

Councilwoman Jackson said the appointment was "disgraceful and illegal" because Mrs. Bucholz is married to an Albany police officer.

City Attorney Robert Zweben later said the appointment was legal because it was only temporary. Monday he repeated his opinion that the council's action was legal.

Mrs. Jackson alleged that police chief James Simmons had made unsuccessful attempts to get information pertaining to confidential Civil Service Board deliberations.

Simmons challenged Councilwoman Jackson to prove her statement. She was not able to do so.

Albany to oppose area land controls

By NORMAN COLBY

ALBANY — The Albany City Council is endorsing proposed state legislation that would prevent state agencies from adding land use controls or otherwise revising the Bay Area Environmental Management Plan.

The council voted 4-0 in a special session held Sept. 6 to support SB 2167 authored by Sen. John Nejedly, R-Walnut Creek, requiring state agencies to refer plan objections back to the Association of Bay Area Governments instead of making changes to conform to federal requirements.

Legislative support for the bill is being sought by ABAG President Rod Diridon from all Boards of Supervisors and cities in the Bay Area.

Diridon's letter to the council expressed his fear that although the bill may be adopted by the legislature, Gov. Brown may veto it at the urging of state agencies concerned.

The plan was developed by ABAG staff after hundreds of hours of testimony by Bay Area agencies and individuals and long debate within ABAG committees. A final vote last June omitted some air pollution and other measures originally recommended, including land use controls.

In other business at the Sept. 6 session the council:

Albany woman stars in hospital's video show

ALBANY — Theresa Sola, an Albany resident for more than 60 years, was the star of a recent television production at Samuel Merritt Hospital in Oakland.

The subject was rehabilitation of patients after knee replacement surgery; a topic Mrs. Sola is very familiar with as she has had both of her knees replaced at Merritt.

The hospital was a pioneer on the West Coast for joining replacement surgery including knee operations like Mrs. Sola's.

"These surgeries have brought new hope for many elderly patients suffering with arthritis," reports William S. T. Jackson, M.D., chairman of the Department of Orthopedic Surgery, and member of the board of directors of Samuel Merritt Hospital.

Mrs. Sola was crippled for many years with osteoarthritis and was in constant pain. This pain meant that her life style was seriously compromised. Regular attendance at St. Ambrose Church, a trip to the grocery store, a visit to her sister's house just a few blocks away; all the important activities of day-to-day living, became painfully difficult. The thought of not being able to walk was so intolerable to Mrs. Sola that she looked with hope to the replacement surgery her doctors offered.

The right knee joint was replaced in 1974 followed by the same procedure on her left knee in March of this year.

After both surgeries, teams of physical therapists and nurses assisted Mrs. Sola through the convalescent and rehabilitation period. Daily exercise routines were used to strengthen all the muscles which support the new knee joint's motion.

Within weeks she was on her feet; within months she walked again without assistance.

"For me the hardest part of the surgery was the many days spent in therapy," recalls Mrs. Sola. For her and many other patients

SAVE ALBANY HIGH SPORTS PROGRAM

Proposition 13 has drastically reduced the Albany High School athletic budget. If outside help is not forthcoming, most of this year's boys and girls programs will be scrapped.

The Albany High Athletic Boosters ask for your help in raising the $10,000 required to continue the programs.

These activities are affected: Boys' Football, Boys' Basketball, Boys' Wrestling, Boys' Baseball, Boys' & Girls' Track and Cross Country, Girls' Volleyball, Girls' Basketball, Girls' Tennis, Girls' Softball.

Money collected by this drive will be used for supplies, equipment, first aid materials and uniform replacement which last year cost $12,000, but are budgeted for this year at $2,500.

All Albany High supporters are invited to attend an organizational meeting to form the "SAVE OUR SPORTS PROGRAM." To be held Wednesday, September 13, 7:00 p.m. at Albany High School, Room 22.

A general meeting will be held Wednesday, Sept. 20 at 7:00 in the Little Theatre. Everyone is invited to attend.

YOUR SUPPORT AND CONTRIBUTIONS ARE VITAL. All donations are tax deductible and will go 100% to support Albany High's Athletic Program. Make checks payable to:

Hometown news

A red-headed freckled-face youngster from the heart of Albany's Highlands danced her way into a first-place trophy over the Labor Day weekend.

Eleven-year-old Margaret Wright received the Robert "Bobby" Nicol Memorial Trophy as the best Highland dancer, under 16 years of age, in the Bay Area. The diminutive Highland Flinger, a student of Linda Grilla of San Leandro, also won a dance scholarship presented by the Caledonian Club of San Francisco.

"I think it's just wonderful, getting prizes for doing something that's such a lot of fun," Margaret's smile made the freckles dance. "And you meet the greatest people."

Defensive driving seems to be attracting more adherents, recently, than the conventional martial arts and, Bay Area traffic being what it is, the situation isn't too surprising. At least Col. Sam Dow (Ret.) isn't startled.

An old 'dodger' fan, Col. Sam announced last week that he would offer a couple of courses on the intricacies of highway survival. Classes would be held on two consecutive Saturdays — September 30 and October 7. Just 24 hours after making the offer both classes were "way oversubscribed."

"Now we're going to schedule additional classes, I suppose," Sam rubbed a furrowed brow. "I guess we'll spot one — the third session, that is — shortly after Thanksgiving, possibly in early December. And those reservations which are in the mail now will be honored."

"The demand points up our need for additional instructors, too. I'm trying to get volunteers started right now — asking them to call me at home. The number's 525-0509. They'll find it's a very rewarding activity. A lot of 'old grads' will look up their instructors months or years after taking the course, and tell 'em how they've avoided accidents as a result of our training. That makes for a great return on volunteer duty."

"All that's needed, actually, is a desire to help others and the ability to talk. The special training required of volunteers will be furnished free of charge."

The National Safety Council Defensive Driving Course is being sponsored locally by Albany Chapter 2618 of the American Association of Retired Persons.

Local thespians are contributing their bit toward the suspense sequences of "Night Must Fall". The Masquers Playhouse production is being staged weekends during September and on the first Friday and Saturday in October at the Point Richmond Theatre.

Kay Parisho of Albany portrays an elderly hypochondriac in the Emyln Williams thriller. Kay shared her suspense on several old favorites including "Come Back, Little Sheba," "Light Up the Sky" and "The Curious Savage." She directed "My Three Angels" and "The Reluctant Debutante", appeared in summer stock and is a veteran of radio dramas.

Also in "Night" is Phil Goldsmith of Kensington who is playing his fifth role as a Masquer in the part of Dan.

UC Symphony sets auditions

Auditions are open to all interested string, wind and percussion players. For further information and audition appointments readers may call Michael Senturia at 642-2678 or 848-3657.

tients the repetitious exercises which are so vital to the success of the surgery soon become dull and tedious.

Merritt's closed circuit television system which has been used for several years to provide inhouse patient teaching offers a means to encourage and motivate the patient to continue exercising.

Borrowing ideas from television exercise personalities such as Jack LaLanne and Debbie Drake, Physical Therapist Peggy McCollough of Berkeley, and Mrs. Sola prepared a 10-minute demonstration program complete with music, and invited knee patients to join in.

The program was recorded on color videotape in the studio equipped through a series of grants from the Helene Fuld Health Trust. The tape is shown twice each day to patients using Studio Three's automated playback system. Nurses assist the patients with the exercise equipment and tune in Channel 6 at the prearranged time. The patients take it from there.

"The results are remarkable," says Delores Bealand, R.N., orthopedic coordinator. "Television turns a lonely, unpleasant experience into a group participation program that many patients regard as fun."

"This surgery has meant so much to me that I wanted to do this program to bring encouragement and help to others going through the same experience," stated Mrs. Sola. "When I started the exercise program it didn't seem possible that I would be soon up and about," she continued, "but before I knew it, I was walking on my own again without pain and life seemed all the more worth living again."

spent or earmarked for rehabilitation loans and grants for home improvements and the housing conservation program. Other sums are allocated for a total of $350,000.

• Scheduled on Oct. 2 public hearing on proposals to create two one-way streets on Albany Hill — Hillside Avenue from Jackson Street to Cerrito Street and Cerrito Street from Hillside to Washington Avenue. This is proposed by Police Chief James Simmons on the basis of increased traffic.

• Adopted an emergency ordinance that prevents trucks of five tons or more from using Solano Avenue west of San Pablo Avenue by designating Cleveland Avenue and Buchanan Avenue as truck routes west of San Pablo Avenue. Trucks may use Solano Avenue east of San Pablo Avenue, however.

• Referred to City Attorney Robert Zweben a proposed new loitering law that would allow city police to require loiterers to leave local business establishments upon request of the proprietors.

• Considered replacement of the city's American Flag at Buchanan Street and the freeway. It was recently stolen. Cost may total about $125, based upon an offer by Jerry Talley of the local American Opinion Book Store to provide the flag for about $80. Local service clubs will be asked to participate in the funding.

involved was asking for an apology from one another. But the matter ended when Taylor said he wanted to make an appointment quickly to end the dispute.

However, Mrs. Bucholz, who had agreed to serve as temporary secretary without extra pay and on her own time, quit because she said she was tired of the hassle, and was angry that Taylor denied that he knew of the alleged conflicts when he originally supported her.

which we will need for the following year. It will be nearly $90,000 less than last June's ending balance," he explained.

All the city will have for its leftover funds next June will be about $110,000 in revenue sharing monies, the $239,000 emergency funds coming from the state in the next few months and perhaps $25,000 more. Total: about $375,000. There will be no general funds left over, as in past years, Haden said.

"You may ask why the $239,000 coming from the state is not being used this year, 1978-79. This is because the budget was made up earlier when we didn't know if any money at all was coming from the state. And we need to hold the $239,000 until next June for use in the following fiscal year because even with it the city will have $90,000 less to spend in 1979-80, Haden explained.

"You may ask if the state may provide more money next year. This is a big if. It looks like the cities will be on the end of the line-up for funds. Future funding will certainly be much less than before. Future staff layoffs and program cuts may become necessary even with additional state money."

"Thanks to Prop. 13, the city is experiencing a 19 percent drop in its general fund ending balance."

City to view moratorium on Hill

ALBANY — A proposal by a group of citizens to place a two month moratorium on construction on Albany Hill will be discussed by the Albany City Council when it meets at 8 p.m. Monday.

A petition signed by 617 area residents requesting the moratorium was presented to the council at its Sept. 11 meeting. The group said it wants the moratorium until the city votes on a hill density proposal in the November election.

Presently, according to the petition, two proposals are before the planning and zoning commission. One is a 14-unit project on Hillside Avenue and the other a 24-unit extension of Madison Street. The petition asks that the projects not be considered until after the vote along with any other construction on the hill.

Hearing on protest to Tevlin building project

ALBANY — The council will hold a public hearing Sept. 25 to hear an appeal from Albany residents opposing a plan to build 11 single-family dwellings on Tevlin Street.

The council voted Monday unanimously to hold a public hearing. The plan was before the council for a vote after being approved by the planning commission.

Residents went to the council to override the commission's approval of the Tevlin Street plan, saying although the commission had given careful consideration to many details in the plan's design, several points should be considered by the council.

The residents said the area has substantial access, the plan had made without regard to the present plan takes access to a creek that children play by, and a lot will have to be built to give burglars access to homes.

In other business, the council unanimously approved an application for off sale beer and license to The Store Pierce St.

THINK OF US AS THE BANK OF ALBANY.

That's how we think of ourselves.

We know that having branches all over the state wouldn't impress you if you didn't get good service and fair treatment right here in town. We also know you're more interested in how good we are than in how big we are.

Now some people might say we think small. But apparently you don't. Because right now our nine East Bay offices are handling more checking and savings accounts for more people in our service area than any other bank. Any other bank.

If you're tired of giant banks with not-so-giant ideas, we think you'll find the Mechanics Bank refreshing. Sure, we know there are some very big banks out there. Maybe that's good for them, but it's not good enough for you.

YOUR BMW DEALER CAN LEASE YOU A CAR YOU WON'T BE BORED WITH BEFORE THE LEASE IS UP.

Put as charitably as possible, the majority of the world's luxury sedans—while lacking nothing in the area of luxury—are considerably lacking in the area of performance.

Therefore, if you are considering leasing an expensive sedan, we suggest you consider one you won't be bored with before its lease is up: the BMW 530i.

While the BMW 530i provides all the luxury one could reasonably require of an automobile, it also provides the one thing that truly makes an expensive car worth the money: extraordinary performance.

So extraordinary that none other than the editors of Road & Track magazine unequivocally call it "...the best sports sedan in the world."

If the thought of leasing such a car intrigues you, call us and we'll arrange a thorough test drive at your convenience and explain our selection of leasing plans as well.

Dear Sir:

I would like to comment, in part, on the letter by Stephen Radkey in THE TIMES, of 8-23-78. He stated that many voters "Came out of the woodwork" to vote in the recall election. That appears to be quite true, but fortunately the true citizens of Albany were there to outvote them, making the recall a success.

Mr. Radkey should move to Cleveland, where he would be of the majority.

Suspect in kidnap gets trial delay

OAKLAND — The trial of accused kidnapper Richard Hovey has been postponed for two months pending the outcome of an appeal concerning the admissibility of some of the evidence in the case.

Hovey's trial, scheduled to begin September 7 in Alameda County Superior Court, was put over until Nov. 1 while an appeals court in San Francisco hears the defense's challenge of the legality of a search warrant used to collect evidence from Hovey's Hayward home after his arrest.

Hovey faces three charges relating to the alleged abduction of a nine-year-old El Cerrito girl from an Albany street corner on June 18. He was arrested a few hours afterward, when police traced a license plate number given to them by two Albany men who witnessed the incident.

Alameda County sheriff's investigators are continuing their probe into the possible connections between Hovey and the murder of an eight-year-old Hayward girl last March. No charges have been filed in that case, however.

Oct. 2 deadline on tax appeals

ALBANY — Albany property owners who wish to challenge the values placed on their homes or other property by the Alameda County Assessor, must file an appeal prior to the state deadline of Oct. 2.

William M. Bennett, member of the State Board of Equalization, reminded taxpayers that a change in the law has extended the appeal deadline to Sept. 30 in all counties for this year only. Since Sept. 30 falls on Saturday, the deadline moves to the close of the next business day, which is Monday, Oct. 2 at 5 p.m.

Bennett said that if a property owner has not yet received notice of the assessed value of the property, the owner may obtain that information from the assessor's office. Usually the assessor's office will supply the figures by phone or mail if the owner can identify the property accurately, preferably by parcel number.

A property owner can contest the assessor's full cash value estimate if he/she thinks it is too high. Except for property in specialized cases, such as open space programs, "full cash value" is defined as the price a willing and knowledgeable seller could get for the property from a willing and knowledgeable buyer.

To contest the assessor's valuation most effectively, Bennett advised home owners to learn the market values of comparable properties in their neighborhood. Bennett also cautioned that owners cannot expect relief merely because taxes are generally high. The current appraisal value must be excessive relative to what the property was worth on the statutory lien date of March 1, 1975, the base year for assessment levels established with the adoption of Proposition 13, unless the property was newly constructed or changed owners after 1975. In such cases, values are based on date of sale or completion of construction.

Property owners are reminded that Proposition 13 allows the assessor to apply an inflation factor to the value not to exceed two percent per year.

Immunization survey slated

ALBANY — Albany representatives of the Bureau of the Census will conduct a survey in this area during the week of Sept. 18 to 23, to determine the extent people have been immunized against selected diseases, John E. Tharaldson, director of the bureau's regional office in Seattle, announced today.

The survey is conducted throughout the U.S. every year to provide information on immunization against measles, influenza, polio, diphtheria, whooping cough, tetanus, rubella, and mumps needed for administration of health programs geared to disease prevention. These health questions are in addition to the usual ones asked in the monthly survey on employment and unemployment conducted nationwide by the Bureau for the U.S. Department of Labor.

Results of the monthly employment survey provide data on conditions in the labor force, prime indicators of the economic health of the country. For example, in July the survey indicated that of the 100.6 million men and women in the civilian labor force, 94.4 million were employed.

the previous after-school recreation activities, the Y's Kids Club will involve children in arts and crafts, sports, games, and tutoring in academic skills.

YMCA Director Pamela Hunt will administer the program, and staff members will be UC Berkeley education majors receiving credit for their activities through the education department. "The program will operate on Mondays, Wednesdays, and Thursdays from the first dismissal at 1:50 p.m. until 6 p.m."

"Mrs. Hunt said, 'and if we find that there is need for a five-day program, the adjustment will be made. Of course, we'll have our usual youth classes and activities available on Tuesdays and Fridays here in the YMCA building.'"

A sample schedule of activities for the Y's Kids Club is as follows:

1:50-2:30 Outdoor Games and Supervised Play

2:30-2:45 Snack Time and Announcements

2:45-5:15 Activities (arts and crafts, quiet games, tutoring, "new games" and dramatics)

5:15-6:00 Clean up and storytime

Snacks served will be milk or juice, and children will be encouraged to choose activities during the afternoon according to their interest.

"One of the unique qualities of this program will be the development of a parent advisory committee during the first few months of operation. We want the parents' suggestions and evaluations," Mrs. Hunt said.

STACKING UP A DOZEN BROAD GRINS
Y's Kids demonstrate happy pyramid power

The committee will have regular meetings and will make reports to the YMCA Board of Management. We are finding that parents who work want to make sure that their children are involved in a quality program. By inviting them to monitor and advise us on our effectiveness, we can feel confident that we're doing a good job."

"YMCA staff will have had practical experience to handle the fall program after nearly 250 children 5-9 years old attended the summer day camp program," she added.

Brochures will be distributed to all elementary school students on Monday, September 11, with registration held at the YMCA during the evenings that week. "Y's Kids Club" will kick off September 18 and continue until the close of school in June.

Interested parents may call the Albany YMCA at 525-4447, or visit the Y at 921 Kains Avenue in Albany.

Solano Stroll unique annual fete

Street of bargains, entertainment

The Solano Stroll, scheduled Friday evening from five to nine, will feature music, entertainers, and "a streetful of bargains" offered only at the annual "Twilight Faire."

A motorized "cable car" will make regular runs up the Solano Avenue "midway for an evening," offering free transportation to the shoppers.

"Once a year the Solano merchants stage the fete as a 'thank you' to their regular clientele, and a get-acquainting evening for newcomers," David Nicols, of the Stroll committee, said today.

Returning this year are "The Dancing Dills," a local troupe of terpsichorian gherkinds and a list of bands, strolling jugglers, dancers, stiltwalkers and novelty acts that run the gamut from Old English Faires through American vaudeville.

All stores will remain open during the four-hour festival, and a number will serve refreshments.

A charity auction will highlight the evening, offering a number of "fine and unusual items," according to Nicols, who added that several stage acts will be featured at the special sale.

The auction this year is being conducted for the benefit of the La Cheim School of Berkeley.

Also scheduled are several fashion shows, balloons will be given to the children and there "will be buttons for everyone."

Racing abuses continue despite probers' report

By JOHN ADAMS

When the two-year-old thoroughbred Sinsation ran last race, he surprised more than a few bettors by breaking out of the pack and winning to several lengths. But before he got a chance to prove himself again, someone slipped into Sinsation's stable just one night prior to his big race at Meadows Fair and poured iodine under his protective bandages. The attack, which caused painful blisters on Sinsation's forelegs and forced him out of the race, startled with race followers and those who investigate the racing world. It was a particularly cruel, almost unheard of, industrial sabotage in a world accustomed to various forms of misdeeds. Had the attack happened earlier, it might have come under the scrutiny of a team of investigators from the state auditor general's office, which had just completed its probe of the racing industry in California.

That investigation produced some startling revelations but no crackdown from the governor's office.

The auditor general's report says that 16 percent of the officers, directors and members of horse racing associations in the state have lied about their background in order to get their licenses to race, but as yet little has been done to clean up the racing game.

In addition to the auditor general's findings on officers, directors and partners, it discovered that 23 percent of the jockeys had lied to get their licenses, and that eight percent of the trainers and harness drivers had lied on their applications to the California Horseracing Board. The figures were all taken from the 1975 racing season.

The California Horse Racing Board is the governing body for all racing in California. The board consists of members appointed by the governor. It licenses and sanctions every participant in horse racing, designates racing dates, collects the state's share of revenues, and acts as a quasi-judicial body.

But the probers in the auditor general's office found that the California Horse Racing Board has not made a recommendation to the governor's office since 1960 over changes in the operation of horse racing in the state.

Three years ago two winning thoroughbreds at Golden Gate Fields failed to pass their tests, showing the presence of drugs in their system through urine samples. Trainers in the case fined $300 each. But losing bettors got no refund.

Also, three years ago, a fine Argentine import was discovered entered under another name, and was barely scratched before race time at Bay Meadows. The horse's record in the racing form was actually for another animal of only mediocre ability.

There was also the allegation by the auditor's probing that automated parimutuel machines, long thought to be the answer to legalized betting in the state, can be tampered with so that cash received at one betting window is not included in the closing tallies that determine odds on a given race horse.

The governor's office has been contacted several times over some explanation on the inaction, particularly since Gov. Brown's chief aide and the head of his campaign for re-election, Gary Davis, served on the Horse Racing Board for more than two years.

But spokesmen for the governor referred the matter to Davis, the administrator's horse racing expert, and Davis declined to discuss it.

In an era when dollars are scarce due to Jarvis-Gann, the auditor general's study claims that while California received $91 million in revenue from racing in 1975, if tax laws that exist in Illinois, New York, New Jersey, and Ohio were applied here, the increase in revenue would be $38 million, $10 million, and $10 million, respectively.

In addition, the study takes dead aim at the laxity of the board to check applicants for racing licenses with the Bureau of Identification of the U.S. Department of Justice. The board has claimed a lack of adequate budget, saying that it costs $6 to check out each applicant.

But the auditor's report notes that of 15,260 applications in 1971, 2,693 of them were checked through Washington; of 16,786 licenses issued in 1972, some 3,237 were checked; of 17,416 licenses issued in 1974, only 1,249 were checked; and of 18,172 licenses issued in 1975, only 15 bothered the board enough to check out through Washington.

The report also questions certain operations at Golden Gate Fields Race Track in Albany, where racing dates are allocated to both Pacific Racing Association and Tanforan Racing Association. The dates, which run concurrently, are controlled by Bay Area Sports Enterprises (BASE), which owns the major stock in both Tanforan and Pacific.

But instead of paying the state on the graduated scale set up for one entity racing in California, BASE pays the state as two separate entities. The total gambling handle at Pacific racing days in 1975 was $61,994,954 of which $3,800,669 went to the state. Comparable figures at Tanforan were $61,441,296 and $3,764,405.

If these racing associations were taxed as one entity, the state reportedly would have received $7,990,692 in 1975. But as separate entities, Pacific and Tanforan paid only $7,565,074, a saving to them of $415,618, or 5.5 percent.

From 1975 to the present, these taxes were computed as two entities, losing the state increased tax revenues each year. These facts also have been well-known to the governor's office for two years, but no action has been taken.

The auditor general's report also finds fault with the long tradition of having racing officials such as stewards, veterinarians, and horse identifiers attempt to supervise their own employers (the race track) in the name of the state.

The report stresses the importance of these posts in the assurance of honesty in racing, and suggests they be hired directly by the state rather than individual racing associations at each track.

Albany Bowl

910 Major League keggers open season

By PHIL ALSTON

ALBANY — Chris Wu, a newcomer to the league, fired a 641 series to lead Diablo Bowling Supply to an 18-7 victory over O & R Vending as the eight team 910 Major League opened its season at Albany Bowl.

Wu's series was the best of the night and his 246 second game was surpassed only by Ed Carrara's 250.

Pressing Wu for series honors were Rod Sparks 634, Mario Salcedo and Ed Cotright, both 628, and Larry Clement, 617.

Favored Full House stumbled coming out of the starting gate and was upended by Rod Sparks' team 19 to six. Sparks' 634 was backed by Ike Pontius' 560 and Mark Valente's 555.

Marshall Plan
U.S. Secretary of State George Marshall announced his Marshall Plan for the reconstruction of Europe in 1945.

Grabbing the early lead in the team standings was Ed Carrara's crew, which hammered out an impressive 19½ to 5½ victory over J. D.'s Raiders. Salcedo's 628 was the decisive factor and he was accorded strong support by Carrara, 250—595, and John Martin, 592. The winners had team high game of 1023 and a three game total of 2803.

Margie Mass offered 510 and Connie Hill 504 to give Connie's Hillians an 18-4 win over Team Two and the early lead in the Majorettes League.

Teams captained by Art Schwenke, Pete Penwarden, Bernice Hoehn and Don Chew swept all three games to go into a four-way tie for first in the 20-team Plaza Mixers circuit.

Paul Bennett's 538 was best for Tri City Men, while Joe Blankenship led Woodstackers with 532.
